

Welcome to Week 7!

Week Seven...look at how much you have accomplished! Only one more week and you will be one step closer to graduation. This week, make sure you are in contact with your student advisor (SA) to share your successes and find answers to any questions or concerns you may have.

REVIEW WITH YOUR SA

Remember, open communication is key to your success. The more information you share, the more helpful your SA can be along your path to graduation. Here are a few things you may want to discuss with your SA:

- Substantive Interaction
- Transcripts
- Academic Full View
- Degree program worksheets
- Bookless courses
- Proctored exams
- Multiple term registrations
- Technology fees
- Early Access
- Book Buy Back program
- Scholarships
- Student Advising Team
- Hours of availability
- Importance of open communication
- Corporate or military base group presentations on value of education

DID YOU KNOW?

You can start your next course the day after your current one ends, allowing for a smoother transition and a faster degree completion period.
